WRITES HOME

Member of Aero Squadron Likes the U. S. Army

The following letter written by John Everts, now in the Aero squadron at the training camp near Dayton, Ohio, indicates that army life is not so bad as some pacifists would make people believe.

Fairfield, Ohio,
August 26, 1917.

Dear Mother and All:
Just a few lines to let you know that I am well, and that we have just arrived here from Texas.

We got here last night about eight o'clock, and we sure have a fine place. There is everything one wants in the barracks. There is a Y. M. C. A. in the camp.

We are about seven miles from Dayton, Ohio, which is a large town. Well, I saw Texas, and it beats them all for sand. It would blow two hundred feet in the air at times, and we could not see a thing. We had lots to eat, but at times we would run short. There were ten of us in the tent and we had good eats to sleep on.

Will try to get off before long and come up and see you, or you can come down and see me. It is not very far. Lloyd is here with me. I have not seen him yet this morning, as he is in another squadron. He is in the 4th and I am in the 42nd. Will find him when I go back to the barracks. There is another Alma boy in my squad. He is a cook.

I wish I could see you. I could tell you a lot. I have had more fun since I have been in the army, than I ever had before in my life. And talk about girls, well, Texas beats the world. They are all crazy about Uncle Sam's boys.

I may be here for a long time and I may not be here for more than two weeks. Some of the boys from Texas went to Mt. Clemens.

Tell Ralph and Min to write, and be sure and send me the paper from home. Did you see the letter Chris Deven wrote to his mother? I saw him in Columbus when I was there. I saw a lot of boys in Texas, who were from Alma. I never saw them there, but they looked good to me. I have not seen anyone here that I know, but have not been around yet. Well, mother, I am going to fly in an airplane soon. Was up in one in Texas about three hours. I like it fine.

Tell me all about the drafted men when you write to me. I tell you we were cold this morning, when we woke up. It was only 125 in the shade in Texas, and it was some change.

Love to you all,
John Everts.

PROCLAMATION

Sept. 5, 1917.

To the Citizens of Alma:
The Salvation Army of our city is to have a tag day Sept. 8th to defray the expense of the Salvation Army ambulance unit now in France and those who are to follow. The Salvation Army is doing its bit to uphold the honor of our country and help the boys in the trenches and should be encouraged. They have now thirty thousand men fighting. Four have received the Victoria cross for bravery. Saturday you will be asked to help and I hope the citizens will respond liberally.

Ira H. McKinney,
Mayor.

Children's diseases demand preparedness. When the child wakes you at night, gasping and strangling for breath, how thankful you are to have Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey at hand. This effective remedy loosens the mucous and permits free and natural breathing. Its soothing balsams heal the irritated membrane and arrests further inflammation. Pleasant to take. Keep Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey in the house for all colds and bronchial troubles. At your druggist, 25c.—Adv. I.

Amy Presler is attending Alma high school this year.

Rev. Roberts of Tawas City preached at the church here Sunday evening.
Arland Rench, who was recently operated upon for appendicitis at Brainerd hospital, is getting along nicely and will soon be able to return home.

The community was deeply shocked Thursday by the death of Lawrence Anderson, aged twenty years. Death was due to blood poison. The funeral was held from the Baptist church Saturday afternoon. The family has the sympathy of the entire community.

A. Eichorn and family entertained company from near St. Louis Sunday. Robert Eichorn and wife are attending the state fair in Detroit this week.

Special Mothers' day for "Mothers of France." Mothers of city will see message conveyed by Madame Bernhardt, from mothers in France to mothers of America, Genesta theatre Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16. Matinee and nights. Adv.

THE THEATRE

Genesta Theatre.

Occasionally there comes a motion picture which dignifies the silent drama and lifts it far above the usual banalities of the entertainment of the screens.

It is no wonder that the Rialto Theatre was literally besieged all last week during the exhibitions of Jean Richepin's picture play "Mother of France." The fact that Sarah Bernhardt acted before the camera in one of its roles is not the secret of the public's great interest. The reason is rather, that "Mothers of France" was recognized at once as the symbol of the spirit of the French Republic in the great war. Emotionally the play could not have been more powerful or appealing if expressed in spoken dialogue, and the ability of the camera to overcome the restrictions of the regular stages gave the scenes a realism which brought their message home to every spectator.

But the entire production is a notable one, not only for its effectiveness but for its fine ideals. For future generations it is quite sure to be one of the significant and illuminating records of the great war. It will be shown at the Genesta theatre, Saturday and Sunday, September 15th and 16th.

The Only Practical Lighting System for Ford Cars is

Jefferson Magneto Lamp Regulator

BECAUSE—

1. It will not interfere with the ignition or cause the engine to miss.
2. It increases the lighting efficiency at low engine speed at least 300 per cent.
3. It prevents the burning out of lamps at high engine speed.
4. All lights are wired in multiple instead of the present unsatisfactory series system. Each light is operated separately and independently. If one goes out the rest are unaffected.
5. It standardizes the lighting system to a six volt system. Six volt lamps are used, which have a sturdier filament, withstand vibration better, last longer and give better satisfaction.
6. An improved 3-way switch is installed on the steering wheel for dimming the lights as required by law. This feature alone is worth the whole price.
7. It will operate all lights on a Ford car electrically, head lights, side lights, tail light, dash light, trouble light and spot light.
